

COCK LORGE REVIEWS

BLENDER MAGAZINE calls "Cock in the Pussy" one of the Top 100 Songs of the Year.

DIG THIS REAL: "If you have not had the pleasure, and I do mean PLEASURE of listening to the release I WANT YOU from Cocklorge, well you just haven't experienced true sex, music and rock n' roll. . . Cock Lorge is stylistic and on the cusp of something big... its easy to find yourself walking around singing the songs (and wanting sex!) because they are so ferociously likable, memorable and aggressively touching. . . this is a MUST HAVE in your CD collection."

CRASHIN'IN: "Sexually obsessed lyrics topped off with an upbeat happy, go lucky rhythm really makes me worried about this band. But for those of you with a great sense of humor, grab one of these CDs and laugh along as each line unveils a new joke. You'll only have this much fun watching the Comedy Central channel."

PAUL GAITA/SLEAZEGRINDER: "Cock Lorge is smart enough to not take himself seriously in the least, and instead devotes his material to poking fun at overheated pop metaphors and dick-swinging attitudes in general. . . His songs are also insidiously catchy, so be prepared to explain to your co-workers why you've been singing 'Cock in the Pussy' under your breath for the entire day."

INDIE911.com describes Cock as a "pornographic Neil Young with heart and hilarity."

VILLAGE VOICE (Phillips): "[other bands] could learn a lot about songwriting from Cock Lorge, who plays Lite FM ditties with stupid/brilliant lyrics like 'Cock in the pussy/My cock's in your pussy, baby.' That's an entire song."

SPLENDID MAGAZINE: "[Cock Lorge] have Ween's sense of ironic juxtaposition . . . threading their lovingly rehashed lowbrow humor with A-plus arrangements that impress with both their simplicity and their sheer addictiveness. These guys aren't even serious about trying to make you laugh; the only thing they care about is getting a chord progression stuck in your head for weeks."

HITS DAILY DOUBLE: "Popcult Top 10." (12/04)
